

Last Congregation of "The Cobblestone Church"

Within the next few weeks Sierra Madre's "Cobblestone Church," one of Southern California's truly unique places of worship, will be only a memory as wreckers knock down the building stone by stone.

The somewhat sad but true fact, though, is that the Bethany Temple will no longer hold its ever-expanding congregation.

At closing services in the church last Sunday more than 50 persons had to listen to the proceedings by loudspeaker in spite of the fact that every possible seat within the building was occupied.

During the service Dr. Robert

N. Schaper, pastor, presented checks of $1,000 each to Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Mulholland and to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore. The Mulhollands returned this week to Brazil after being home on furlough for more than a year. The Moores will leave this summer for their first term of missionary service in Peru.

Dr. Schaper said the special gifts display the real desires of the church in its expansion program.

"Not only will the building project increase our usefulness to Sierra Madre and its environs," he said, "but it will make possible a wider ministry for the Gospel in the great mission fields of the world."

Designed and built by a half-blind Frenchman named Louis D. Cornuelle, Bethany Temple was dedicated in 1922. A year later the church served a membership of 91.

Today (or last Sunday to be explicit) the circular-walled edifice draws at least 425 worshippers to its two Sunday services, with many forced to sit in the auditorium to hear the sermon.

The planned new church, which will cost about a dozen times as much as the $11,000 required to build the cobblestone structure, will seat 700 under its triangular roof.

Police Pay Hike Seen In Budget

Police salaries, together with those in almost every other city department, would be increased substantially under the preliminary budget submitted to the City Council Tuesday night.

The budget raises patrolmen's salaries from $300-$335 to $330-$395 monthly.

The police chief would receive a raise from $440 to $475, and sergeants would be raised from $555-$575 to $570-$620.

Other city employees would receive proportionate increases to bring them up to what City Administrator Lawrence Bevington called the prevailing rates in surrounding communities.

The preliminary budget will be acted upon by the Council at its meeting July 10.

The budget calculates income to the city from the property tax on an estimated total tax base of $10,500,000 for the coming fiscal year. This represents an increase of $550,000 over last year, indicative of the continued growth in the area.

There are substantial increases estimated in four other funds.

1—Business license income is raised from $10,000 to $15,000, based on the 1955-56 fiscal year income.

2—Refuse collection fees are increased from $31,000 to $38,295 based on the increase from $1 to $1.25 per meter.

3—Subventions and Grants are up approximately $17,000. This increase comes mainly from three funds, Special State Gas Tax and "In Lieu" increases resulting from population increases and the city street engineering fund from a recent act of the Legislature.

4—Sales and Use Tax revenues of $40,000, which amount is not included in the General Fund but is reserved for capital items.

Estimated expenses for the coming year are substantially the same as previous years except for four areas:

1—The expanded Police Department represents a major increase in expense over last year. The increase in personnel requires increases in all items, maintenance, as well as capital expense.

2—There is budgeted an in-

This is what happened Sunday to one of two cars which collided at the corner of Sunnyside and Highland. Kevin R. Snow, 9-year-old son of Harry R. Snow of 310 E. Highland, suffered a fractured skull and brain concussion in the crash. He was released from St. Luke Hospital on Tuesday, and must spend at least two weeks in bed.

The crash occurred when the auto above, driven by Walter H. Johnson of Pasadena and going north on Sunnyside, collided at the intersection with the auto at right, driven by Mr. Snow and traveling east on W. Highland.

A passenger in Mr. Johnson's car, Wayne Allen Flansburg, suffered a broken nose, but refused treatment at St. Luke. Both Johnson and Flansburg are sailors based at San Francisco.

Both drivers escaped with cuts and bruises.

According to the police report on the accident, Johnson was "unable to see vehicle 2 (Mr. Snow's) due to a 7-foot fence on his left that blocks vision of drivers driving east on Highland and north on Sunnyside. The fence blocks the view for approximately 35 or 40 feet before the intersection."

Young Kevin was flung from the back seat onto the pavement when the force of the crash spun the cars around.

The fence described in the police report came up at the City Council meeting Tuesday night when a delegation of residents from the area, through its spokesman, Gardner Frye of 529 W. Highland, sought its removal.

Mr. Frye reminded the Council that a petition had been filed for that purpose some two years ago, but that no action had resulted. He asked either that the fence be removed or stop signs erected.

The Council assured the delegation that it was studying the problem of removing the fence, and that action could be expected either in that direction or on erection of stop signs in the near future.

In another accident Sunday, cars driven by Virginia Lee Stein of Hollywood and Delos Edwin Marsh of Altadena collided at the intersection of Sunnyside and Mariposa.

Passengers and drivers suffered cuts and bruises.

Pool in Canyon Opens Saturday

The Canyon Pool opens Saturday at 1 o'clock. City Administrator Lawrence Bevington announced Tuesday. Pool hours will be the same as last year's—1 to 6 p.m. six days weekly, and from 7 to 9 on Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Rates are 15 cents for children up to 16, 30 cents for ages 16 to 21, and 50 cents for adults.

Board OKs Pay Boost, Restores Bus

Additional salary increases to all school personnel and the restoration of services previously dropped because of a lack of funds were voted Monday night by the Sierra Madre School Board.

The salary increase, slightly higher than the previously announced one of $400, will create a pay range for teachers here of $4,012 and $6,052 annually. Classified personnel also benefited with a slight increase.

The salary of Supt. Charles A. Skuet was increased to $10,250 for the coming year, which is $450 above his present salary, including an automobile allowance of $600.

The total budget for the fiscal year of 1956-57 is estimated at $304,811, and allows for a music teacher, an additional classroom teacher, bus service and the reopening of the school cafeteria.

The board also decided to re-roof a portion of the Sierra Madre School. The low bid of

Funds Are Approved To Develop Plans

At a meeting attended by some 36 residents, the City Council Tuesday night voted to go ahead with plans for a municipal swimming pool on the water department property on E. Sierra Madre Blvd.

On a motion by Councilman David S. Wood, the Council voted up to $1,000 to develop plans for the pool and park area on the site.

The development would be paid for out of sales tax funds.

Because of what appeared to be the general Council feeling that the funds should be in hand before the pool is built, it seemed unlikely that it would be completed before 1½ to 2 years.

THE COUNCIL vote came after eight residents rose to speak in favor of building a pool as the first capital expenditure out of the General Contingency Fund set up last week to receive sales tax monies.

Also, the Council heard six letters in favor and received a petition, also in favor, signed by 109 residents.

Councilman Lorne B. Pratt, who last week sent a questionnaire on uses of the general fund to 215 residents, reported the following results:

Out of responses from 99 families, 87 voted to spend funds first for the pool and park development, 2 voted for park development without a pool and also wanted a tax cut, 8 favored a tax cut, and 2 expressed no opinion.

Of those voting for a pool and park, 56 wanted a civic center as the next capital expenditure and 27 wanted a tax cut next.

SPEAKING AT THE meeting in favor of a pool at the location selected were Mrs. Grace R. Vane, 220 E. Sierra Madre Blvd.; Mrs. Arthur C. Bohart, 615 Edgewood Drive; Gale R. Hershey, 581 Wilcox Rd.; Mrs. Clark T. Casey, 340 San Gabriel Ct.; Mrs. W. H. Kindrick, 390 E. Laurel, and Dr. Donald W. McCormack, 520 E. Laurel, speaking also as president of the downtown area.

ALSO, COUNCILMAN Harold Roberts pointed out that opposition to the water department site formerly was based on experts' advice some years ago to hold that area for possible use as settling basins.

CHAMBER LUNCHEON

The date of the Chamber of Commerce membership luncheon has been changed from June 28 to July 10, President Robert Green announced yesterday. It will be held in the Woman's Clubhouse.

Mrs. Pritchard Leaves Library Board Post

(Ed. Note: The City Council Tuesday night directed that a resolution be framed thanking Mrs. Pritchard for her "very remarkable services over the past 15 years" and appointing her an honorary life member of the Library Board. The Council also received notice that Hugh Colvin, whose board term also is expiring, will accept reappointment.)

By Webster Vannier
Chairman of the Library Board

Miss Martha Pritchard, after serving as a trustee of the Sierra Madre Library for 15 years, all that time as secretary, has declined to accept reappointment.

The Rev. George Lindsay, minister of the Congregational Church, has been chosen to replace her.

Miss Pritchard brought to her service here training, experience, and an enthusiasm for her work which have been of great help in maintaining the efficiency of the Library, in planning our new one, and in enlisting community support.

It is not the type of service which is plainly visible to the outsider, but to the Library staff and to the trustees it has been invaluable.

She attended Wheaton College (Mass.), graduated from Teachers College, Columbia University, and received an M.A. degree from the Graduate Library School of the University of Chicago.

Her active work was first as a librarian and then as a teacher of librarians, first in Detroit and then at the New York State College for Teachers, which she organized. There she trained librarians for work in the public schools of the State of New York.

Miss Pritchard has helped in all phases of library work—cheerfully and indefatigably. To this end she worked constantly with the librarian, assisting in many details and, especially in the selection of books. Her latest activity has been to inventory all the volumes in the library—a task of

Countess Here Dies in Upland Auto Accident

Funeral services for the former Countess Antonia Winckheim of Hungary, divorced wife of Robert D. Harris of Arcadia, will be held at 9 a.m. Friday in St. Rita's Church here.

Mrs. Harris, who lived with her mother, Countess Margaret Czizoky, at 401 N. Grove, Sierra Madre, and her ex-husband were killed Saturday in an auto accident near Upland. Shirley Gianette, 16, of Upland, who was riding in the car that collided with the Harris auto, also was killed.

Rosary services for the Harris couple will be held at 8 p.m. today at Glasser and Miller Chapel, Arcadia. Interment will be in Resurrection Cemetery following the mass tomorrow in St. Rita's.

Mrs. Harris, who had lived with her mother for about three years, is survived by a daughter by a previous marriage, Beatrice Winckheim; a brother, Leslie Czizoky of Ontario, Canada, and a sister, Mrs. Alice Jeszenszky of Austria.

Mr. Harris, a native of Riverside, met his wife in Linz, Austria, when he was serving as a lieutenant colonel with the Military Police in Europe during World War II. They came to Arcadia in 1947.

Employed at the Hollywood Race Track, Mr. Harris is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Harris; a sister, Mrs. Mary Paul of Northridge, Calif. He was a member of American Legion Post 247 in Arcadia.

Alfred Dewey Exhibit Is Scheduled at Library

By Marjorie Parker
Member Exhibits Committee
Friends of the Public Library

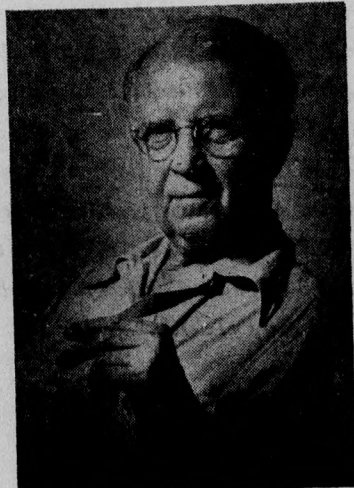

Sierra Madre's painter-in-residence, Alfred James Dewey, will hold a retrospective exhibit of 36 years of painting in Southern California at the Library Gallery beginning Sunday. The exhibit will last through July.

The Exhibits Committee of Friends of the Library and board members of the latter organization will be hosts at the public reception for the artist from 2 until 5 Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Dewey's painting career reaches back almost all of his 82 years. He studied under Howard Pyle at the Philadelphia School of Industrial Art and later taught there. He went as cartoonist to the famous Williamsport "Grit," and then on to New York where he met and married Sally Dewey.

TWENTY-TWO YEARS in New York carried him to the top of the list of the country's best illustrators. He drew for the famous old Life Magazine, for Harper's Weekly and then for Harper's Magazine. He painted war posters during the First World War and did a Life in America series for calendars. In 1923 the Dewey family, which now included four children, came to Sierra Madre for Mrs. Dewey's health.

HE HAS TAUGHT a memorable number of young Sierra Madreans to paint and for years exhibited in Los Angeles and Pasadena galleries. In the exhibit cases of the main Library will be book illustrations and sketches by Robert Jenkins, a volatile and versatile young Sierra Madrean. Still in the process of getting his master-of-arts degree, Mr. Jenkins is a graduate of the San Francisco School of Fine Arts. Although he will exhibit mostly pen and inks, he works also in oil, watercolor and col-

VFW Barbecue Planned Saturday

Sierra Madre's first Loyalty Day Barbecue, sponsored by the VFW, will be held from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the City Park. VFW Commander Joe Vernon announced yesterday.

Barbecued beef—a half pound per person—salad and soft drinks will be served. A special serving line will be set up for the town's businessmen.

The VFW also will hold a dance at the clubhouse Saturday starting at 8:30 p.m. Commander Vernon said the club hopes to make the barbecue an annual affair.

Third Pastor Backs Drive to Buy at Home

Rev. Chilton C. McPheeters, Ph.D., of the Methodist Church here, became the third church leader so far to endorse the "Buy in Sierra Madre" campaign which is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The campaign, which will run for 13 weeks starting July 12, will offer $1,000 in three cash prizes to the local civic, fraternal or church group that collects the most votes. A total of 47 merchants here have agreed to participate so far.

"To drop in and get acquainted with our local merchants who maintain the services which help make our city a delightful place in which to live will do much to maintain our characteristic tradition of a friendly community," Rev. McPheeters said.

"The cash awards to be made available to qualified 'service' organizations will not only add a measure of needed support, but should draw increased attention to the need for larger local participation in the many organized efforts in our midst which serve a higher purpose and a larger goal than mere self-interest.

"Let us strive to make the present campaign a time for a larger appraisal and appreciation of the resources and values within Sierra Madre. Remember, what betters our community is better for you!"

Participating merchants will offer 100 votes for every cash dollar spent during the campaign in their places of business. You may then cast these votes for your favorite organization.

First prize will be $700, second, $200, and third, $100.

De Hut 'Rescue' Leaves Local Record Intact

The Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Crew spent 414 hours in a rugged search for a "lost" man who was not lost, but his record is intact—no man has remained lost when the crew has undertaken the search.

Donald De Hut of Huntington Park, who vanished on a fishing trip May 30 and who later turned up in Salt Lake City, was back in Los Angeles County today.

The object of the 23-day search pleaded not guilty Tuesday to a charge of disturbing the peace—specifically, "endangering the public peace or health"—and was released on $500 bail.

He requested trial by jury. The date was set for July 9 at 10 a.m. in El Monte Municipal Court.

DeHut told sheriff's officers he had been having trouble at home and was hopelessly in debt.

That's why, he said, he abandoned his car in the Big Creek area of West Fork in the San Gabriel Canyon and hitchhiked to a bus station.

From there he went to Salt Lake City and got a job as an aluminum worker, giving his Los Angeles area employer's name as a reference. This led to his discovery.

The fruitless search cost more than $10,000, not counting the wear and tear on men and equipment and lost work hours suffered by members of the Sierra Madre, Altadena and San Dimas Mountain Rescue groups.

The Sierra Madre group spent most of its time searching the rugged Devil's Canyon-Bear Creek wilderness.

During the hunt, Earl LaLone and Minor Harkness of the local unit were landed by helicopter in the wildest part of Upper Bear Creek, where they spent a day seeking the "lost" man.

There they found large bear tracks, and spent the rest of the day looking out for two things—the missing DeHut and the bear.

Also during the search, three members of the Altadena group were stranded and had to be rescued.

After it was all over, Mrs. DeHut held no animosity toward her runaway husband, and indicated she will take him back with no recriminations. The couple has a 10-month-old son.

Why Wait for Tragedy?

There's a death trap at Sunnyside and Highland, and it almost claimed its victims last Sunday.

A car driven by Harry R. Snow of Sierra Madre and another driven by a Pasadena man collided there.

Mr. Snow's 9-year-old son, Kevin, was thrown onto the pavement and suffered head injuries. He was taken to St. Luke Hospital. A passenger in the other car suffered a broken nose. The others escaped with cuts and bruises.

Who's to blame?
The city, that's who. The city and a 7-foot fence erected at the southwest corner of the intersection over the neighbors' stiff protests.

If someone set out to build a trap for motorists, he couldn't improve on that corner. With the fence blocking a driver's view until he enters the intersection, and without a stop sign on either street, the spot invites tragedy.

The city was asked a couple of years ago, in a petition signed by some 150 anxious residents, to order the fence removed.

Refused on that count, they sought a stop sign. Again they were refused.

Now, in the name of common sense, I'd like to ask the city authorities: Must a person die before an obvious precaution is taken?

Are stop signs so expensive or their erection so troublesome that we can't plant a few to forestall plainly-foreseeable smash-ups?

Anyone who heard that injured child sobbing on the hard, hot pavement last Sunday can provide the answer. W.F.T.

In Defense of Consistency

The Planning Commission has a hot potato on its hands.

At its July meeting, the commission will be expected to hand down—for the third time—a decision on a request to rezone the southeast corner of Sierra Madre Blvd. and Michilinda to allow construction of a gas station there.

Those who oppose such a move on aesthetic grounds have been eloquent in their opposition. Lee Shippey, in his column in The News last week, summed it up in his defense of the "front door to our city."

But I think there is a more central issue.

The Planning Commission must decide in effect whether it should break a promise made in 1955 to residents of the area, a promise which led many of them to undertake extensive and costly development of their properties in the belief that they were safe from the threat of a damaging zone change.

Having lived in many ugly cities, I sympathize with those who oppose the rezoning from an aesthetic view.

But aesthetics always must compromise with progress, if a city is to grow and thrive.

The test in each case must be: Is the sacrifice demanded by progress? Is there a real need for the change?

It's the same with depreciated property values through rezoning. It's hard on the owners, but it often must be accepted if a city is not to be choked by inability to expand its commercial development.

But again, the test must be: Is there a real need? Does progress demand it?

The proposed service station falls both tests.

No one can claim with validity that Sierra Madre—with five service stations in the city and another on the fringe—badly needs another.

Nor can anyone point to progress being served by erection of another gas station.

There is another consideration. It can't be denied that a hardship is worked on the owner of the disputed property by preventing him from making a profitable business deal.

But the Planning Commission decided that issue in 1953 and again last year. The only changes since that time are the beginning of construction on two nearby properties.

Lee Shippey asks
What Do You Think?

Nearly every day there is at least one sig-alert warning that this or that freeway is unusable because a truck has broken down on it or some minor accident has occurred.

Doesn't that show how silly it is to imagine a city like Los Angeles could be evacuated within a few hours if an atomic attack threatened?

Turn loose a million people in motor cars—some of the cars in very poor condition—all trying frantically to get as far from any center of population as possible, and every freeway would be a shambles from which there would be no escape. And think what one or half a dozen atomic bombs could do to such masses of struggling humanity.

IN LOS ANGELES two weeks ago two admirals testified that there is no complete protection, that no matter what we do, some atomic or hydrogen bombs could get through to us.

Of course, we could punish any potential enemy as much or maybe more. But one can't be any deadlier than dead. If an H-Bomb fell within 20 miles of any of us it might not make any difference to us what happened to our enemies.

And now there are intimations that radiation and fallout, in sufficient quantities, would have such effects as would increase in transmission from generation to generation and might destroy our children's children.

No one yet can say for sure what the effects on the descendants of the victims of Hiroshima and Nagasaki will be. But if destructive progress continues at the rate it has continued in the last dozen years, it seems sure that soon still more potent and terrible destructive agents will be invented and developed—at terrifically higher costs—and it will be true that even that nothing will be sure except death and taxes.

Therefore, it seems to me the one imperative thing in all international diplomacy is the discovery of the path to peace.

I don't think our diplomacy, in recent years, has been worth a cent. Every day our newspapers picture or tell of some new weapon which can do terrible things, or quote some general or "statesman" in a ringing declaration insulting to Russia.

As long as we can't have disarmament with mutual inspection, we must make new weapons—but why flourish every one of them as a threat? And why not gag the "statesmen" who continually shoot off their mouths?

Let's carry a big stick but quit telling what crushing blows we could hit with it. If we talk ourselves into a war, we may utterly destroy a potential enemy—and our own country may be crippled for 100 years.

TWENTY YEARS more of cold war, with ever-mounting costs for preparedness, may impoverish us. Six months of modern war might ruin us and every other nation of importance.

But war is so stupid and so certain to injure all concerned that American salesmanship should be able to sell every other nation a plan for peace so fair and beneficial to all that all—including us—can accept it.

WE CAN'T do that by replying to every gesture from the other side with insults. We don't have to accept any offer until we know we have a good one, but we can decline with courtesy instead of saying, via the press: "It's all propaganda. You can't trust those people. They're habitual double-crossers."

True diplomacy can make even a firm refusal sound friendly enough to encourage a better offer.

Rep. 21st District

Congressional "give-aways" this year and last have been astonishing. The present majority has pushed through these give-aways despite the heated objections of our minority, and the tempo is increasing.

This give-away majority just gives lip service to a balanced budget. It talks tax cuts out of one side of the mouth, while calling loudly from the other side for more appropriations to finance more give-aways.

And you should know this because, after all, who pays the bills?

Although the formula for congressional lavishness is simple, it continues to work magically.

It starts with a "worthy cause," one sure to win votes from a certain region, or from a certain group of people. This region, or this group, carries the ball in convincing enough sympathizers that the government should assume responsibility for anything the state, county or city hasn't yet accomplished.

THE TRAGEDY lies in the fact that once the aid program is established, it is almost impossible to tear down—especially when there aren't enough congressional votes.

Last week, in spite of all the votes we could muster, the House passed the Water Pollution Bill which, among other things, calls for another $500 million in federal aid to local communities.

The House has voted a lot of other give-away measures, large and small—$64 million for a third House Office Building; $40 million to enlarge the Capitol; thousands of millions for foreign aid; $50 million more than requested for Health, Education and Welfare; $227 million beyond what the Independent Offices had requested; $800 million for military housing. These are just a few.

Of course additional billions have been authorized but not yet appropriated, including $4 billion for farm price supports.

THE UPPER COLORADO river boondoggle won approval, and its eventual cost will run to billions. Disaster loans and home disaster reliefs were passed.

I'm not criticizing all these projects in themselves. But I'm opposed to Congress entering fields in which it has no business. I'm against Uncle Sam doing what the states, counties and cities can do more efficiently and economically for themselves.

The states have to operate on a firm financial basis because they can't print their own money. The federal government, on the other hand, can spend and spend because if it runs short of dollars, it just turns the presses and prints new ones.

These new dollars hurt you and your pocketbook. They create the most vicious form of invisible taxation because they reduce the value of the dollars you already have tied up in savings, in homes, in cars and other property such as insurance plans and pensions.

THEY CREATE inflation of the type we endured from 1939 to 1952, when the value of the dollar dropped from 100 to 52 cents.

Since 1952 it has remained constant, but the pattern for a new rash of inflation is developing again.

Around the Square

By Marjorie Parker

Sometimes (like right now) it seems that Sierra Madre should be hailed for its jacaranda trees as well as its wistaria vine. This year the feathery trees have been in particularly heavy bloom. In the early morning, before traffic has disturbed the blossoms fallen in the night, the grey trees stand ankle deep in pools of periwinkle.

DAVID KIRKPATRICK and his wife Charity are back from a jaunt down the Grand Canyon to Phantom Ranch, complete with burros. The 114-degree heat on the Colorado River caused a fatality, first in some 30 years. But the Canyon, for all that, was still magnificent, they report.

THE BRILLIANT Roger Kuntz' canvas, "Piazza San Marco," has been purchased by a Sierra Madre! Hanging in the current show, it is the painting with the soft-toned background of Venice and the flashing foreground of birds' wings careening in the sun. A beauty.

Maybe going to art exhibits is like being exposed to measles—in time you're bound to get something.

THE PRETTY clerk at Roberts observed a sign of the times: gentleman purchases dinner for himself—17c; for his dog—23c.

ANOTHER DROP in the census: Joe Vernon and his wife, Darlene, children Dani Jo, Joe and Dawn and kit Mitzi left last week-end to take up residence on Mayflower St. in Monrovia. Joe has lived here 16 years, his parents will still hold forth up on Skyland.

GRACE BAUERLE, who now lives on the practically unmentionable street, says that if you call it Canyon, half the townspeople look mystified. While if you call it Canon, the other half frown. Gently she points out that the word, spelled without its Spanish tildes, does not mean something to be shot out of, but "an ecclesiastical law or a member of a body of church dignitaries."

Please, somebody in the Street Dept., give us back our tilde or anyway a "y."

AS SEEN in the NEWS: "Actor Leo Carillo and Sheriff E. W. Biscailuz will participate in the rescheduled dedication of Placerita Canyon State while the head is hot."

Moral: Columns on health advice should be isolated from general news. Some of that stuff is contagious.

HUGH McBRIDE, object of a column here a couple of weeks ago, now gets up from lunch at the Royal, bows to the girls behind the counter and says, "Gotta go face my public."

Somebody must read this stuff.

Sierra Madre News

Attn. Lee Shippey

Noted your article in The News. I am not writing the Planning Commission as you suggested, as I'm only a neighbor (in Arcadia), looking on.

I am in Sierra Madre a great deal both for work and trading, and appreciate your viewpoint as to what should not be done to that corner.

Could I be so bold as to suggest you ask people for suggestions as to what can be done? We ought to be aware of the fact the owner wants it developed.

He is not under obligation to give the people of Sierra Madre and the rest of us the inspiration we feel and enjoy, then leave him to foot the bill.

If the Sierra Madre people enjoy this corner, they ought also to share the responsibility. Why not ask for co-operation, so the owner can get his share, while giving?

Please do not print my name.

NAME WITHHELD

Dear Sir:

As the president of the Sierra Madre Historical Society, as a descendant of a pioneer family here and as a resident of one of the few remaining cities in Southern California that can be and still is called "charming," I have written to the Planning Commission urging them not to pass a variance allowing a service station to be built at the western entrance to our city.

Mr. Andrews also is the descendant of a pioneer family who has always worked for the development of the best for Sierra Madre.

Reports From Abroad

PARIS—Paris' homeless bums have saved many people from committing suicide. They are one of the city's best on-the-spot rescue groups.

When one wishes to commit suicide, it is traditionally Parisian to jump into the Seine River. But so many bums sleep under the Seine's bridge and along its banks that a despondent citizen doesn't get a chance to drown. Somebody is usually there as a willing rescuer.

Last year, just under 30 would-be suicide cases were saved in this manner.

Most of the people who "camp" under the Seine's bridges are Moroccans. They bundle themselves together during the winter months, using newspaper and rags to keep from freezing.

These are the less fortunate Moroccans. Luckier ones have grabbed off gratted places on the sidewalks that are warmed by air from the city's subway system.

When someone jumps into the Seine during the winter, they get the same unhesitating rescue service available in the summer. But the river-side campers grumble when they have to swim through ice.

On the evening of Feb. 3 of this year, a woman was preerra Madre. He is an old friend of mine, and I could not wish him to suffer great financial loss. But it seems to me, even though he is not granted this variance, he still has a very valuable corner zoned for several useful purposes for which it can be sold.

Surely nothing could be more detrimental to a neighborhood, whether residences, schools or churches, than a noisy, smelly service station—ugly even at its best.

Even if Mr. Andrews had to suffer some financial loss (which is questionable) he would have the great satisfaction of carrying on the fine record of his forbears in sacrificing something to keep Sierra Madre a little different from all the towns around us—a little less noisy, a little more restful and beautiful.

I feel sure the citizens of Sierra Madre who love it as their home town would thank and honor him for it. I certainly would.

Sincerely,
JANET S. WOOD

Dear Sirs:

At the meeting of the Sierra Madre Civic Club held on June 21, 1956, it was unanimously voted by the members present to turn over to the Semanor Club all votes which our members would be entitled to cast in the local "Buy at Home" campaign. We feel that this youth organization needs our support and that it is a small way in which we can help.

Sincerely,
ANN M. TYLER, Secy.
Sierra Madre Civic Club

paring herself for the plunge from Pont Neuf. A man on the bank below, believed to be Algerian or Moroccan by his accent, called up to her saying:

"Please don't jump from this bridge, Madame. I'll have to swim after you, and it's cold and I can't swim very well. Go somewhere else. The Eiffel Tower."

The woman ran away without answering and jumped from another bridge. Someone else saw her and enforced a rescue. She later told the story to hospital doctors.

Only in rare cases do these homeless campers receive material reward for their work. They get a ride in an ambulance to a public hospital, some warm wine and a few commendable lines written on their police record.

One of the most unusual attempted suicide cases of the Seine occurred in 1952. A woman splashed into the river and "tried to drown."

She wasn't having much success when a man jumped in after her. The water was almost to the point of freezing, and the fellow got cramps. It turned out that she, since a woman has the right to change her mind, swung into action and saved him from drowning.

Active Summer Schedule Announced by Faith Lutheran

"Christian education will take no vacation at Faith Lutheran," according to A. Goepfinger, chairman of the congregation's board of Christian education.

Two events will be initiated next week at Faith Lutheran Chapel, 835 Hastings Ranch Drive.

Sunday morning at 9:15 the Sunday School staff will introduce the summer film schedule, presenting "The Missions of the Lutheran Church."

Each week at this hour a 30-minute color film will be shown, featuring one of the lands in which the church is working. Sunday's introductory film will survey all the missions of the Lutheran Church. It is entitled "Beyond Our Own Horizon." Everyone is invited. Departmental teaching sessions will follow.

At 10:30 Sunday morning, the Rev. A. Hesse will present a sermon on the theme, "Workers With God," based on two of the seed-parables of Jesus. This sermon will emphasize the church's responsibility and also God's part in Christian education.

Monday morning at 9, the two-week Children's Vacation Bible School will open. Sessions will be held daily from 9 to 11:45 each weekday except July 4th.

Due to limited space, three enrollment regulations have been adopted. First, admission of Faith Lutheran Sunday School pupils will begin with kindergarten age and continue up through Junior Bible Department.

Second, pupils who attend no Sunday School must be age 6 and up. Third, it will be impossible to enroll pupils who are members of another Sunday School.

News of the Churches

Catholics, Presbyterians Lead in Religious Census Here

The Sierra Madre Methodist Church this week released results of a religious census of the Foothill area conducted by the Rev. Fred M. Morris, who joined the staff as Minister of Visitation. Rev. Morris made 8,422 calls and obtained information from 5,094 family units in his survey of the area from Sierra Madre Villa to beyond Santa Anita Ave.

The survey shows the following religious makeup of the community: Roman Catholics, 16 per cent; Presbyterians, 15 per cent; Methodists and Episcopalians, 10 per cent each; Congregational and those claiming no connection with any church group, 8 per cent each; Bethany Church (local community church basically Baptist in doctrine and policy), 4.5 per cent; refusing to give any information, 4.5 per cent; Christian Scientist, 4 per cent; Lutheran, 4 per cent; Jewish, 3 per cent; Baptist, 3 per cent; claiming affiliation with other Christian groups scattered among 30 denominations, 3 per cent; reporting membership in 26 different cults, 2.5 per cent; Mormon affiliation, 1.5 per cent.

Bishop Gerald Kennedy this week announced the reappointment of the Rev. Chilton C. McPheeters, Ph.D., for another year as pastor of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church. Dr. McPheeters first was appointed to the Sierra Madre church last September.

cent; Christian, 1.5 per cent; antagonistic to all religion, 1 per cent, and Nazarene Church, 0.5 per cent.

In releasing this information as a public service, the Rev. Chilton McPheeters, pastor, had this comment:

"Statistically it would seem that our community area is basically a very religious one. However, when we look below the surface, examine the membership claims of churches in the area and allow for those whose religious activities are centered in areas outside the one covered in the survey, we shall discover that modern man's religious affiliation is written more in terms of the church or denomination he stays away from than any church he is actively working in.

"Altogether too many people in American life are living off of a borrowed heritage, content to possess a second-hand faith, enamored of comfort, security and doing-what-I-want-when-I-want-to-do-it. The challenge and opportunities for churches are without limit."

Sierra Partners Elect Officers at Recent Meeting

Members of Sierra Partners, couples group of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church, recently held a social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spreen, 85 Monterey Lane.

After the program, presented by the Spreens and their co-hostesses, Dr. and Mrs. George Frempter, these new officers were elected:

Mr. and Mrs. John Heer, president; Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Brown, vice president, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spreen, secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting, July 14 at 7:10 p.m., will feature a charcoal broiled steak dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Heller, 1095 Valley View. Co-hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bevington. Reservations may be made at ELgin 5-2964 or ELgin 5-7619.

Summer Hours Set at Trinity

Trinity Presbyterian Church announced this week that Junior High services from July 1 to Sept. 9 will continue to meet at 9:30 a.m. For all other groups there will be one service at 10 a.m.

Open House Is Planned for Church School

The Vacation Church School, held at the Congregational Church this past two weeks, will culminate in an Open House tomorrow evening.

The program will begin in the Sanctuary, where each class will share with family and friends the thing they have learned in the school.

Of special interest will be the song, "This is Our Vacation Bible School," words of which have been written by Mrs. Thomas Solury, one of the teachers.

Following the program, each of the rooms will be open. The work done by the students will be on display. Included will be the book-making processes which the Junior High class has developed.

The evening will close with refreshments served in Pritchard Hall.

Dr. McPheeters Leaves Saturday for Youth Camp

Dr. Chilton McPheeters will leave Saturday to serve for a week as a group leader and faculty member of Colby I, a Christian Adventure Camp for junior high school students.

Located in the Angeles Crest National Forest, this camp is owned and operated by the Southern California - Arizona Conference of the Methodist Church. Once a private hunting lodge, the primitive beauties of the natural setting have been carefully preserved.

Dr. W. R. Reynolds, dean of the Graduate Department of the Pacific Bible College, will preach this coming Sunday. The sermon topic will be "The Elder Brother."

Throughout the summer worship services are conducted at 9:30 a.m. Sunday School will continue at the same hour with classes for all age groups.

Haftora of the Week Will Be Subject of Services at Temple

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel, spiritual leader at Temple Beth Israel of the Foothill Jewish Community Center, will speak at Friday night services on the Haftora of the Week, on the Prophet Jeremiah.

Marco Walshak, who will be Bar Mitzvah at Saturday morning services at 9 o'clock, will be B'nei Mitzvah on Friday evening.

Cantor George David will chant the hymns and prayers while Mrs. Stevens will accompany at the organ.

Hosts following both Friday evening and Saturday morning services will be the parents of the Bar Mitzvah, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walshak.

The man who makes the best of everything is guaranteed a market for his products.

Ex-Resident Dies in San Fernando

Mrs. Sue E. Johnson, who resided in Sierra Madre from 1911 to 1947, died June 23, 1956, in San Fernando after a long illness.

Prior to her hospitalization in San Fernando, Mrs. Johnson had been living in Long Beach. A native of Indiana, Penn., she was the widow of Arthur Johnson II.

While residing here, she was an active member of the Sierra Madre Congregational Church. Survivors include a granddaughter, Mrs. Carolyn Davis of Van Nuys; a brother, George Robinson of Cleveland, and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at Ripple Mortuary Chapel by the Rev. George W. Lindsay.

Interment was in the family plot in Sierra Madre Cemetery.

SERMON TOPIC

"Freedom and Inner Strength" will be the subject of the Sunday sermon at 11 a.m. by Dr. Ethel Barnhart at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd., Pasadena.

Picnic Sunday For Adult Class

The Adult Class of the Foothill Jewish Community Center of the Temple Beth Israel, under the leadership of Rabbi Charles W. Steckel, will draw to a close its sixth year of classes Sunday at 7 p.m. with its annual picnic at the home of Dr. and Mrs. N. Jacobs, 454 Mariposa Ave.

The Adult Class will commence its seventh year of study this fall. The date and topics will be announced.

E. W. Stone Dies After Long Illness

Funeral services for Elbert W. Stone, 301 N. Baldwin, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Ripple Mortuary Chapel, with interment in Live Oak Cemetery. The Rev. George W. Lindsay will officiate.

Mr. Stone, a Sierra Madre resident for three years, died Tuesday following a long illness. A native of Port Byron, Ill., he formerly lived in Hollywood.

He is survived by his widow, Mabel; one son, Elbert, of Pasadena; a daughter, Mrs. William Hobbs, of San Antonio, Tex., and four grandchildren.

Budget Gives Raise to Police

creased street tree program. "This part of the Street Department operation has not received sufficient attention, with the result that the trimming and shaping of the trees, as well as the removal of dead trees is far behind and needs a vigorous program for the next few years," Mr. Bevington said.

3—The improvement of the Parking District will require assistance from the city in the estimated amount of $2,500.

4—The expenses for recreation are up $2,000—$1,000 to be a direct payment to the school and $1,000 set aside for work on the Park House for the recreation program.

The Water Department budget is substantially as laid out in the 10-year finance and capital improvement plan which has already been received and accepted by the Council.

Income from the "In Lieu" tax for the coming year is approximately $45,000. In light of the heavy anticipated Police Department expense, a portion of which occurs in capital items which will not repeat for several years, it was suggested that a transfer of $51,000 be made.

School Board OKs Pay Hike

$2,168 was accepted from the John W. Lytle Co.

The budget also provides for repairs to equipment continued dust control, fencing, painting and soundproofing of several classrooms, and furniture for one room.

Construction of an outside kindergarten area which will release an additional classroom is also anticipated. The board also voted to open the auditorium and cafeteria wing to the free use of youth groups and organizations which qualify under the Civic Center Act. Previously rental had been charged to any group using the facilities.

The increase in expenditures was made possible in January, when voters approved a 55-cent tax override.

The resignation of Mrs. Selma Tandowsky, who taught a combination second and third grade at Sierra Mesa School, was accepted. Mrs. Tandowsky has accepted another position in northern California, where her husband will be located.

Summer Program To Start Monday

Sierra Madre's summer recreation program will start at 10 a.m. Monday in the City Park, Recreation Director Philip Mitchell announced yesterday.

Children may bring their lunch to Monday's program, which will continue until 3 p.m. The day will include crafts, rhythms, story telling, games and other activities. There will be movies and swimming once a week. The complete recreation schedule will be printed in next week's Sierra Madre News.

Fashion Review Held By Foothill Group

The Foothill Branch of the Los Angeles County Medical Association held a barbecue and fashion review last Saturday in the Arcadia home of Robert Wilson, M.D.

Taking part in the Hawaiian and swimwear revue were girls from the teenage modeling agency of William Adrian. Included were Carolyn Culp, Sierra Madre's 1956 Wistaria queen, and Barbara Wilson of Arcadia, a 1955 Rheingold Girl.

DIPLOMAS WERE PRESENTED recently to these 10 graduates of Ascension Parish Day School in Ascension Church. They are, first row from left: Carol Ann Colvin, Dorcas Wells, Marie Sorensen, Eugenie Hargraves, and Melinda Knoll. Second row: William Jody Graves, Harrison MacBains, James McKellar, James Atkisson and Michael Cook. Honor pins for outstanding scholarship were awarded to Harrison MacBains, Miss Colvin and Miss Sorensen. The gifts of the seventh and eighth grades, purchased through magazine sales and presented at graduation exercises, include a set of World Book Encyclopedias, a record table, a study table and a silk flag for use in church services.

Sierra Madread Is Youngest Grad

Miss Paddi Owen, daughter of Col. and Mrs. William J. Owen, 20 W. Mira Monte, is the youngest senior of the 661 who graduated recently from Pasadena High School in the Rose Bowl. She celebrated her 16th birthday last Dec. 28.

At the age of 12, upon her arrival from Belfast, Ireland, with her family, she enrolled in the Pasadena schools and was soon thereafter promoted two grades. Her general average for her last two years at Pasadena High School has been A-minus.

Her favorite studies are creative writing and the humanities. Since January she has been doing reviews of plays at the Pasadena Playhouse for The News.

She expects to register at Pasadena City College for the fall semester.

Heads Corporation

Hugh F. Colvin

Hugh F. Colvin of 336 Sturtevant Drive has been named president of Consolidated Electrodynamics Corporation succeeding Philip S. Fogg.

Mr. Colvin will be responsible for general management and direction of the business while Mr. Fogg will continue as chief executive officer and remain in control of general company policy, the corporation announced this week.

Mr. Colvin has served as vice president and general manager since July 1953.

He was graduated from the California Institute of Technology in 1936 and joined the American Gas Association for two years as a chemical engineer before attending Harvard University.

He earned an M.B.A. from the Graduate School of Business Administration in 1939. He subsequently spent a year as a chemical engineer with Wilshire Oil Co. and later joined Union Oil Co. in the same capacity.

He was associated with Union for six years in production planning operations, and at the same time instructed a course in industrial management at Cal Tech and served as editor of the Institute's monthly publication, "Engineering and Science."

Mr. Colvin joined Consolidated in 1947 as treasurer and assistant to the president, and was elected vice president and treasurer in January 1953. Six months later he was promoted to the position of vice president and general manager.

He is married and has four children.

Mrs. Charles David Wailes

Shannon Adrienne Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carter of Altadena, became the bride June 21 of Charles David Wailes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Devenport Wailes Jr., 500 N. Michillinda, in the gardens of her parents' home. Rev. Colm O'Ryan officiated.

The wedding had been scheduled in St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Pasadena, but due to a misplaced marriage license, the ceremony was delayed and the 400 guests adjourned to the Carter home where the rites were performed later in the evening.

Pink and white flowers were used in the floral decorations and floated on the swimming pool.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore an Emma Domb creation of embroidered nylon net. Folds of net formed a low neck and cap sleeves on the snugly fitted bodice. The very full skirt had appliqued rose motifs throughout the front and sides with tiers of net ruffles down the back and sides extending to a chapel train with a short peplum at the waistline.

The three-tiered short scalloped illusion veil was held by a crown of Chantilly lace edged with seed pearls. She carried a white pearl prayer book and rosary with an orchid and lily of the valley.

The rosary, a gift from her late grandmother, Mrs. Charles Carter of Juneau, Alaska, had been presented to Mrs. Carter by Sister Mary Zero of the Order of St. Ann who had founded the first convent in Alaska. The altar Crucifix candleabra was originally used by Bishop Fremont of Alaska.

Ballerina length gowns of frosted white nylon over blue taffeta with full skirts and a bustle bow of blue taffeta in the back were worn by the maid of honor, Eddyette Arnette, bridesmaids, Mrs. Allen Stockstill, sister of the groom, Nancy Bell, Barbara Dunbar and Patricia Needham, and the junior bridesmaid, Candida Carter, sister of the bride.

The bridal party were halos of scalloped blue and white tulle with circular nose veils and carried cascade bouquets of white roses, carnations and delphinium with a background of tulle.

Donald W. Carter, brother of the bride, was best man, and the ushers were Donald C. Wallace and Allen Stockstill, brothers-in-law of the groom, James B. Ware, Charles Bessinger and Crellin Pauling.

The mother of the bride wore a full length turquoise blue chiffon dress with a panel of Chantilly lace extending from the left shoulder to the hem line. Her corsage was of gardenias.

The groom's mother chose a full length Dior blue lace gown with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of the Junior Division, Ramona Convent, and Flintridge Sacred Heart Academy. She is a member of Chi-Rho Club of St. Elizabeth's Parish, the Rosebowl Riders Horse Club and the Morgan Breeders Association.

The groom is a graduate of Pasadena City College and is presently majoring in engineering at Menlo Park College for Men, Palo Alto.

The young couple will remain in Sierra Madre until September, when they will go to Palo Alto to be near Mr. Wailes' school.

Santa Anita Chit-Chat

By Anita
ELgin 5-7846

We were distressed to learn of the serious accident which occurred in our neighborhood last week. Little Linda Eisenhart, 5-year-old daughter of Kerwin and Chantelle Eisenhart of 41 S. Holdman, collided with David Caswell and his bike as Dave was coming down the steep hill from Sierra Madre Blvd.

Dave has a double fracture of the right wrist and arm and Linda has severe lacerations on the head, forehead and cheek. Neighbor children tell us that Dave shouted a warning to Linda before the crash but that no one knows quite how the two children managed to crash.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Caswell of 639 E. Orange Grove Ave. Our heartfelt sympathy goes to the parents of both children; we know how concerned they must be.

Meanwhile, the Eisenharts are entertaining Linda's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Eisenhart who are visiting here from Culbertson, Neb.

THE ENTERTAINING Danowskys, Maxine and Henry, are showing their houseguest, Mrs. George Siling of New York City, the wonders of California and dashing all the way from Tijuana to Yosemite and points in between to do it. Sounds like fun!

MR. AND MRS. Gene Manstrom and Capt. Manstrom Sr. were dinner guests of Betty and Al Foxton last Saturday. Mrs. Manstrom is Betty's sister, Lea, Betty and Al were celebrating their 15th wedding anniversary, by the way.

PHILIP AND LEILA Rosenblum of 141 S. Holdman took a few days off from Philip's engineering job with Hycan Electronics Inc. to rest and enjoy the sea breezes at Pacific Palisades. Leila is one of the most beautiful "ladies in waiting" in our area.

A BUNCH OF US Colony Drive housewives were having our usual gab session prior to the evening's pre-dinner roundup of pets, toys and children, when we fell silent (well, almost silent) watching a steady procession of young and very handsome men in assorted sports cars drive up and enter the MacDonald home.

We knew that Joan had taken the children and gone to her mother's home for the day, and we wondered where Gordon had found so many personable bachelors for a party. They were too gay and smartly dressed to be married!

Our curiosity was truly aroused when we saw one of the young men carrying a large beautifully wrapped package which was obviously a wedding gift! With Joan and Gordon very much married, whose party was it?

Then we remembered Joan's brother was to be married Sunday and Joan had loaned him her home for his bachelor dinner, hence all the men.

We couldn't help wishing our spinster friends and relations would manage to sprain an ankle or faint or something in front of the MacDonald home that evening.

MARTIN AND BARBARA Berdahl, with children Susan and John, set out to spend a delightful three-day holiday sailing with friends at Newport Beach last weekend. The party was abruptly terminated when John developed an acute case of mumps on Saturday... The best laid plans of mice and men...

Sharon Hilary Pound Weds Frank R. Talcott of Glendora

The Rev. James Pierse read the Nuptial Mass June 16 in St. Rita's Catholic Church which united Sharon Hilary Pound, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Pound, former Sierra Madrenans now making their home in Monrovia, in marriage with Frank Roger Talcott of Glendora.

The bride wore an original designed gown of white dotted Swiss, trimmed with lace and seed pearls. Her silk illusion veil had been worn by her mother 25 years ago. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of stephanotis and white orchids.

The maid of honor, Miss No-reen Fox, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Mrs. Marvin Reed, Mrs. Paul Lynch, Miss Duane Rogers and Miss Diane Pinkstaff, wore similar gowns of blue dotted Swiss with matching pixie hats and carried multi-colored Esther Reed daisy nosegays. The maid-of-honor's gown and nosegay were of deeper shade of blue.

Cindy Orson, flower girl, wore a blue and white dotted Swiss frock. Rodney Talcott III was ring bearer.

Ray Keyzers was best man and the ushers were Harlan Anderson, Tom Talcott, Rodney Talcott and Kent Brahmans.

Don Adrian, soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. William Burns.

The bride's mother chose a pale violet crystalline dress accented by a white hat and accessories and deep purple orchid corsage.

The groom's mother was attired in a dusty rose organza over taffeta ensemble with matching hat and accessories and white orchid corsage.

The 300 guests in attendance at the reception held in St. Rita's Hall enjoyed the background music of an orchestra playing for the occasion.

Assisting at the reception refreshment tables were Mrs. Archer Fray, Mrs. James Meagher, Miss Kathleen Meagher, Miss Arline Wycoff, Miss Dolores Thill, Miss Lorna Fray, Miss Marsha Shields and Miss Kathy Phillips.

European Tour To Be Enjoyed By Ardis Shipway

Miss Ardis Shipway left last night for a two-month trip to Europe. She has joined the Pepperdine College summer school group which is going to study at the University of Lausanne, Switzerland.

After she has finished the session in psychology at the school she will have three weeks in which to tour on her own and see some of the other countries in eastern Europe.

Wesley Shipway, her brother, is near Stuttgart, Germany, with the U.S. Army and she plans to spend about five days with him. He will be released from the Army on Aug. 20.

Ardis is the daughter of the R. D. Shipways of 292 E. Laurel Ave., and was born in Sierra Madre, living here all of her life.

After graduating from Pasadena City College, upper division, she worked on the PCC campus for six months as secretary in the "Y" Office and then went to Caltech, where she has been secretary to the registrar for the past two years. Friends in New York, Montreal, Ludwigshafen, Germany; Paris, and then Boston on the way back will make her trip even a little more interesting.

Local Girl's Engagement Is Revealed

The engagement of Margaret E. Farrow, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth L. Farrow, 264 N. Baldwin, and the late V. Gray Farrow, to James Weiler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Weiler of Bell, Calif., was revealed by the passing of chocolates by Margaret to Delta Beta Sigma sorority sisters.

Both of the young people are music majors and seniors at

Miss Farrow

Los Angeles State College. The wedding is planned for June 1957 and will take place at St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Altadena.

Miss Farrow is a member of the Associated Women's Student Board, Inter-Club Council, California Student Teachers Association at Los Angeles State College. She is a graduate of Pasadena City College where she was a member of the Order of Distinguished Service and Spartans.

Mr. Weiler is a graduate of Los Angeles City College and is a member of Delta Kappa Phi, Alpha Phi Omega, Phi Mu Alpha and the Brass Choir at Los Angeles State College.

Masonic Rummage Sale In Progress

The annual rummage sale sponsored by the Sierra Madre Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, and Masonic Lodge, is in progress at the Masonic Temple, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., and will continue through next Saturday.

Proceeds from the event will be used to buy dishes and other equipment needed in the kitchen.

The regular stated meeting of the local chapter will be July 2 at the Masonic Temple. The social hour committee includes Effie Milton, Sue Marsh, Frank Marsh and Clara Benson.

The Sierra Madre Chapter will join with other chapters of the 75th District in honoring their Deputy Grand Matron at a reception slated for the afternoon of July 1 at Lexington Masonic Temple.

NSAL Will Hold Banquet Tonight

The Los Angeles Chapter of the National Society of Arts and Letters will hold its annual banquet meeting this evening at 6:30 in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel in Hollywood.

Attending from Sierra Madre will be Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Franco, 409 N. Mountain Trail, and their daughter, Cathy.

New officers will be installed, scholarships awarded and painting contest winners announced.

Dr. William Vennard, head of the Voice Department at USC, will speak on "Honesty in the Arts."

Mary Jo Nyberg

Close friends and relatives gathered in the George Oetzman home recently were told of the engagement of their daughter, Mary Jo Nyberg, to Donald S. Sipp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred I. Sipp of Columbus, O.

A July wedding in the Sierra Madre Congregational Church is planned by the young couple. The bridal entourage will include Marilyn Wiessler, maid of honor; Sheri Flood, Carol Brookshire, bridesmaids, and Mary Jane Keefer, flower girl.

John A. Paterson will be best man and the guests will be seated by Bob Ong and Gay West.

Miss Nyberg is a graduate of Alhambra High School and Pasadena City College where she was affiliated with Omicron Nu Epsilon sorority.

Mr. Sipp is a graduate of Upper Arlington High School, Columbus, O., and Columbus State University where he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He is a veteran with three years service in the U.S. Navy.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Suter, 600 N. Auburn.

"GOODS OF THE WOODS"

YOUR HEALTH

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D.
Los Angeles County Health Officer

Rapid-reducing diets which last only a short period simply change fat people into potentially fat people, because individuals who lose weight too rapidly generally tend to regain their lost pounds in a short time.

The chief reason for this lamentable condition is that too rapid a weight loss does not permit the change in eating habits that is required if the individual who tends to be overweight wants to stay slender.

There is no doubt that gaining weight back after having lost it is a blow to morale and will power. One or two abortive attempts to reduce usually predisposes a fat person to accept overweight as his fate.

To be overweight is generally considered to be bad enough in itself, but its harmful effects on the body may ultimately result in premature death. Indeed, all those who are overweight should face up to one fact: long-lived individuals are most often thin.

OF COURSE, there are times when rapid weight reduction is a life and death matter. Doctors sometimes prescribe diets for the purpose of taking off weight as fast as possible in cases where certain serious physical conditions exist.

But this is not the best method for the overweight person who is still in normal health and would like to get himself in shape for the long pull. For him, it has no lasting value.

It is best for the overweight person to plan a reducing program that will last several months or even a year. This gradual reducing method has the advantage of permitting adequate time for eating habits to alter, thus eliminating the likelihood of regaining pounds lost.

Best of all, the slow elimination tion of the fat permits the skin to shrink to the new body size and shape without developing the sags and wrinkles that so often occur after too rapid reducing.

PROVIDED A PERSON is patient and conscientious, there is no need to be discouraged about past failures to take off weight. To reduce, a person needs only to cut down on foods, not cut them out. No spartan regime devoid of potatoes, sweets, or bread is necessary. In fact, most carefully planned reducing diets include small amounts of these.

However, it is well to remember that it isn't the potato but the company it keeps, such as butter or gravy, that is fattening. The only calories that grow into fat are the "extra" ones. However, all foods, including fruit juices, have calories.

Fat people quite often have poor morning appetites and very often care little for lunch, according to nutritional research on the subject of overweight. This is the reason the fat person can frequently develop the legend among his associates that he eats like a bird and yet gains weight.

BUT THE FACT of the matter is that fat people are inclined to eat too much in the evening hours and sometimes nibble and snack right up till bedtime.

Many people are unaware that after losing the desirable amount of weight they may add to food intake, by careful trial and error, until they just manage to maintain their new weight.

For example, a person who has to reduce his caloric intake to 1200 calories in order to lose weight will be able to increase it to perhaps 1500 or even 1800 calories per day without again gaining back what he lost.

A daily caloric intake which is reduced 500 below the standard for maintaining a given body weight will eliminate about one pound of bodyfat each week.

THIS DOES NOT mean any elimination of the individual's favorite foods, but simply eating less of them. It is therefore easy to see how weight can be brought down gradually but surely and with the least personal discomfort.

The average person must accept weight control as a life-time problem. The earlier one faces this fact, the easier the control becomes.

A pamphlet on weight reduction may be obtained by addressing a request to the Los Angeles County Health Department, 241 No. Figueroa, Los Angeles 12.

SPONGE CAKE EASY TO MAKE

A light and lovely sponge cake is easy to bake. And it makes a perfect dessert companion for summer fruits. Serve it unfrosted or thinly frosted with a simple butter icing with sweetened berries or other fruits.

Sponge cake, baked in a big angel food pan, makes an elegant party dessert, too. A filling and frosting that's rich with whipped cream makes the cake especially festive.

SUNSHINE SPONGE CAKE
1½ C. sifted cake flour
½ tsp. salt
6 eggs, separated
½ tsp. cream of tartar
1½ C. sugar
½ C. water
1½ tsp. flavoring

Sift flour and salt together. Separate eggs. Beat whites to a froth. Add cream of tartar and beat until moist peaks are formed. Beat in ½ C. of the sugar (2 tablespoons at a time) and beat until stiff. Beat egg yolks well and gradually beat in 1 C. of the sugar. Beat until thick and light in color. Beat water and flavoring into egg yolk mixture. Add flour, all at once, and fold in gently. Add yolk and flour mixture to beaten egg whites and fold in quickly. Pour batter into an ungreased 10-inch angel cake pan. Cut through batter to remove large air bubbles. Bake at 325° for about 60 minutes. After baking, invert cake and let stand until completely cold before removing from pan.

Note: This cake may be baked in an ungreased 8" x 12" x 2¼" pan at 325° for 50-60 minutes.

YMCA Launches Tour Program

YMCA "Rubber-Neck" Tours, part of the Santa Anita District YMCA summer program, began this year with a visit yesterday to the Los Angeles County Arboretum in Arcadia.

Trips on the schedule include the Los Angeles-Seattle baseball game; Helms Bakery and Helms Athletic Foundation; the annual Long Beach Harbor boat trip and swim in the Long Beach YMCA pool; Knott's Berry Farm; Marineland and Cabrillo Beach; Corriganville; Disneyland; and the Kellogg's Arabian Horse Farm.

Activities in the Y summer schedule include swimming, swimming instruction, crafts, tennis classes, athletic tournaments, softball, camping at Camp Bluff Lake from July 7-14, and six weeks of day camping starting July 16.

Complete information may be obtained at 941½ W. Foothill Blvd. in Monrovia or by calling ELIott 8-5155.

CRAFT CLASSES

Craft classes for YMCA youngsters will get under way tomorrow and continue through Aug. 31 from 1 to 3 p.m. in the District YMCA office, 941½ W. Foothill Blvd. in Monrovia, under the leadership of Mary K. Ashton. All materials will be sold at cost prices.

Council Moves To Build Pool

Speaking also as a member of the water commission, he declared that the need for additional basins now was remote. In another development Tuesday night, the Council received a request from the Planning Commission for a study of cut and fill reclamation to provide possible parks in now-useless areas of the canyons.

The Council voted to meet with the commission to discuss the matter.

SUCH A PLAN by a private owner was rejected by the Flood Control Commission about a year ago on the grounds of possible underground water pollution, but Planning Consultant Kay Kallieka told the Planning Commission at its last meeting that this danger could be avoided by limiting the fill material to tree trimmings and other herbage.

In other action, the Council: 1—Voted up to $1,250 to air-condition offices in City Hall. This year's budget provided $1,000 for such a purpose.

2—Voted to go ahead with an aerial survey by Pacific Air Industries of the northeast portion of the city. The survey, to be used in devising a master plan of the area, will cost an estimated $1,105. Already on deposit from landowners in the area is $1,412 against an estimated total development cost of $3,400.

City Administrator Lawrence Bevington reported that out of nine owners in the area, six have supported that plan and the others have indicated that they will do so.

The plan will cost the city nothing beyond miscellaneous connected expenses—including a $75 aerial mosaic of the entire city—amounting to no more than $500, which amount the Council voted for that purpose.

3—Referred to the chief of police a request from Mrs. Elizabeth Steinberger for a stop sign at Mariposa and Sunny-side, described as a traffic hazard.

Toastmasters Trade Speakers With Duarte

Wink Hartman of the Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club won the best speaker's trophy recently when the local group exchanged speakers with the Town and Country Toastmasters Club of Duarte. His subject was "Darkness to Daylight." Subjects on which local members spoke were "Eat More Beef" by Chase Wickersham and "Full Day's Pleasure for a Lifetime Use" by George Mannschreck.

Guest speakers Ed Henry and George Fox spoke respectively on "A Burning Question" and "Lazily Drinking as a Lost Art."

Hurry-Up Call Breaks Search

A group of Sierra Madre mountaineers interrupted the long search for the "missing" Donald De Hut on June 16 when they received a frantic call that a Covina woman had drunk iodine in a camp at the top of Winter Creek.

The group carried a litter three miles into the canyon, picked up the woman, and carried her out to a waiting ambulance in an hour and 55 minutes.

The rescuers were Fred, Earl and Edward LaLone, Bill Work, George Black, Charles Kassler, Jim Heasley and Bill Adams. Two of them had just come in from a 15-mile hike in search of De Hut, making a total of 21 miles of rescue work for the pair that day.

The woman, who with her husband was a guest at a party at Wintercreek Camp IV, three miles from Chantry Flats Station, later was pronounced out of danger.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF PROPOSED PRECISE PLAN

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Planning Commission of the City of Sierra Madre, pursuant to the provisions of Ordinance No. 558, has fixed Thursday, July 12, 1956, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M., in the Council Chambers of the City Hall, 55 West Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, California, as the time and place for holding a public hearing on the application for a precise plan for property described as the Northerly 200 ft. of the Westerly 175 ft. of Block A, Andrews Subdivision, as shown in M. R. 16, P. 13, for service station purposes, in connection with a zone change from R-P to C-I now before the Planning Commission.

The application for Precise Plan is based upon the grounds that there are special circumstances attached to said property which generally do not apply to other property in the same district; that the granting of a precise plan as aforesaid will not result in a material damage or prejudice of other property nor be detrimental to the public welfare or injurious to persons in the vicinity thereof.

Dated: June 25, 1956.
BY ORDER OF THE PLANNING COMMISSION.

VILLA
VIEWSBy Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

Vacation time is here! If you look fast you may be able to catch your neighbors on the wing. Come July first we will have spent 183 days of this year, which brings it exactly to the half-way mark. If I recall, sometime last December I vowed I would bake my Christmas cookies along about this time of year so I could relax in December. I don't know why I don't stop bucking the tide. Who wants to relax anyway? To get a serious note in before I start with the travel news: the Kinneloa Mesa Association is having its board meeting tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Nash at 3100 Mesa Loa Lane.

MR. AND MRS. Sam Matloff of 1590 Old House Road spent a few days last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Campbell at their Laguna Beach home.

MR. AND MRS. D. M. Swarthout of 3048 Clarmey Lane are going to be sorely missed by their neighbors and friends. Mr. Swarthout, who is with the Walnut Growers Association, is being transferred to Stockton, Calif., and they will make their home in that vicinity.

MR. AND MRS. Ira Lackey of 1484 Old House Road have been enjoying the visit of Mrs. Lackey's sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Roche, and Rickie and Debbie, from Moscow, Idaho. They plan to be here about three weeks.

MR. AND MRS. Horace Whitecar spent a recent weekend vacationing at the Rancho Baker's Villa in Bakersfield. They were joined by seven other couples. Mrs. Whitecar said she didn't know about the rest. She came home and prepared dinner for 16.

IT HAS definitely been an occasion month for the F. Furstenberger family of 3126 Meyer Loa Lane. They celebrated the 1st with Mr. Furstenberger's birthday, the 7th with Mrs. Furstenberger's, the 14th was young Johnny Edmonds', their grandson, the 20th was Mrs. John Edmonds', their daughter, the 24th was Ann's birthday, the 28th was the John G. Edmonds' fifth wedding anniversary, and they all celebrated at the Furstenberger home. There is one thing about it, she should have a rest the rest of the year!

MRS. R. B. ENGLISH of 3033 Doyn Road is having a ball up her way. Her German Shepherd dog gave birth to 10 puppies four weeks ago.

MR. AND MRS. John D. Sorenson of 3300 Calvert Road spent a recent weekend at Long Beach visiting friends.

MR. AND MRS. James E. Robbins of 1556 Old House Road returned from a four-day drive up Palo Alto and San Francisco way.

'Y' Swim Classes
Start This Week

Swimming instruction for boys, girls, men and women in the YMCA swimming program got under way this week.

Swimming classes will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Bailey, 965 W. Duarte Road, Monrovia. Boys and girls beginners instruction will be held on Monday and Thursday morning with four classes starting at 9 a.m. and lasting 45 minutes each.

Advanced swimming on the Y instructional level will be held on Friday mornings with the Fish class in two groups at 9 and 9:45 a.m.; Flying Fish at 10:30 and 11:15 and the Shark class at noon on Fridays. Adult swimming instruction for women will be held on Tuesday mornings with the beginners instruction to be held from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.; intermediate and recreational swimming from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Adult men's recreational swimming and individual instruction will be held on Wednesday evenings from 6:15 to 7:30 p.m. at the Bailey residence.

Complete information and registration blanks are available at the District YMCA office, 941½ W. Foothill Blvd. in Monrovia.

Hastings Teen Times

By David Brearley

On Board Westwind III—We sailed from Balboa at 7:30 a.m. There was a light, southeast wind, and the sea was a little choppy. The sky was full of clouds, the galley was packed with good food, and we were ready for a fine vacation.

The classes at Marshall, and all my school friends, seemed a long way off, and for a month my mother and dad, and my brother, Bobby, and myself were to be the crew of the Westwind III, a Chris-Craft cruiser. We were to explore Catalina Island, fish, swim, eat lots of good food and relax.

As we came nearer to the island we could see the bays and coves along the shore. We were heading for Cherry Cove near the Isthmus, a beautiful little bay that seems like it must be thousands of miles from home.

AS WE PASSED Ship Rock, just off the coast, a big seal came up to look us over, and a few minutes later we picked up a mooring in the center of a group of boats already anchored there.

They were all old friends of ours who had arrived the day before. There was Dean White's BET-E-PAT with Betty and Patty White on board. Betty loves to waterski and sail, and Patty with her swimfins is like a little seal in the water.

Then there was Ed and Virginia Smith's TYPEE of Lido Isle with Joyce Smith waving from the bow. Joyce loves to speed around the bay in her little outboard skiff. On our port side was Harry Brown's STING RAY, a beautiful boat especially built for fishing, which must have something to do with the good luck Harry and Mrs. Brown seem always to have hooking rock bass, sandabs, etc.

THERE WERE MANY other boats in the bay, including Wayne Harper's new cruiser, the MARWAY.

There are also about half a dozen large sailboats around us, and when they arrive or leave the Cove they are a beautiful sight to see with their white sails and bright flags.

SO VACATION is finally here, and the fun has started. From now on our swimming trunks will take place of city clothes, and the Pacific Ocean will be our swimming pool. There are fish waiting to be caught, and the boat will be our summer home. Next week I'll tell you about the fun the teenagers are having in Cherry Cove, and the many interesting things that happen while on vacation here on this beautiful island.

Carolyn Dawson is spending most of her summer vacation down at Cardiff Beach with her grandmother and cousin. Elaine Eastwood will go down June 30 to be Carolyn's guest for two weeks. They plan to do a lot of swimming and will have a gorgeous tan when school starts again.

THE EIGHTH Annual Ice Skating Recital presented by Lois Dworshak and her students at the Pasadena Winter Garden on June 18 was a spectacular performance. Nancy Collier skated the solo part of "The Huntsman" in the story of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." She certainly skates beautifully. Marilyn MacLeod skated as one of the fairies in the play. And cute little 8-year-old Linda Mayer was "Happy," one of the Seven Dwarfs. Linda also did a solo number to "Zip-a-Dee-Doo-Dah." She is certainly a terrific skater for her age.

CATHY SMITH is spending her entire summer vacation at their beach house at Newport. She has invited me to be her guest this week and I'm really looking forward to it.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee Browning

Ellen Louise Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Logan Price of El Monte, became the bride of Richard Lee Browning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Browning, 3665 Shadow Grove Road, June 15 in Wesleyan Methodist Church, El Monte. Dr. Robert N. Schaper, pastor of Bethany Church, Sierra Madre, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. Richard Rossow.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor-length white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and full bouffant skirt. Her finger-ring French illusion veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible with a spray of white orchids across the top.

Mrs. Jerry F. Edwards, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and Charlene Price, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Judy Browning, sister of the groom, Charlotte Mullen and Faye Olson.

The bridal attendants were floor-length deep rose frocks with a dropped waistline and full skirt. Their bouquets were crescents of pale pink carnations.

The flower girl, Debbie Askey, wore a full-length pink dress and duster. The ring bearer was Reed Schaper.

Walter "Buddy" Webster was best man and the guests were seated by Calvin Malcor, Philip Lewis, Carroll Olson, Kirk Irwin and Larry Monk.

The candle-lighters were Jimmy Browning, brother of the groom, and David Reinhart, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. Robert N. Schaper, soloist, was accompanied by Judy Anderson.

The bride's mother was attired in a coral pink knit ensemble and wore a corsage of white cymbidiums.

The groom's mother was gowned in a pink sheath accented by a white cymbidium corsage and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Frances T. Browning, wore a lilac and white print dress with an orchid corsage.

Pink and white blooms were used in the decoration of the church and social hall where the reception was held immediately following the ceremony. The tiered wedding cake was topped by the bride and groom used at the groom's parents' wedding.

The young couple met at Cutler Academy in Los Angeles where they both attended high school and graduated. The bride attended the University of Washington and Pasadena City College.

The groom attended the University of Washington where he was a member of University Christian Union House, and is currently enrolled at the University of California at Los Angeles. He will complete his studies next February.

Following a honeymoon at Santa Barbara, the newly-married couple will make their home in Los Angeles.

'Seven-Year-Itch' Will Open
Tonight at the Playhouse

Tommy Noonan, Twentieth Century-Fox star, will have the leading role in "The Seven Year Itch," stage comedy opening tonight at the Pasadena Playhouse.

He will play the part of the would-be virtuous husband whose wife leaves him alone for a summer vacation.

Joyce Holden is featured as the innocent young model who drops into Noonan's summer bachelorhood with exciting consequences.

Harry Antrim, veteran stage, screen and vaudeville actor, plays the psychiatrist to whom Noonan appeals for help.

Movie actress Aline Towne will enact the wife whom Noonan imagines to be having an affair with his best friend, played by Robert Cortleugh.

Others in the cast are Barbara Webb, former California Orange Queen from Hemet; Janet Lord, Nancy Marlowe, Jimmy Carter and Gloria Vauges, a French ballet dancer now enrolled at the Pasadena Playhouse College of Theater Arts.

Much of the play deals with dream sequences in which Noonan imagines himself in and out of trouble with glamorous females.

Dale Peterson
Home After Surgery

Home again after a knee operation is Dale Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Peterson, 1385 Canfield. He spent a week in Huntington Memorial Hospital and will be on crutches for six more weeks.

Dale injured his knee when he was a sixth grader at Eugene Field, and a small sliver of bone has given him trouble ever since. He is a Wilson Junior High student, interested in sports and music.

Jessup a Part-Time
Supervisor, Dorn Says

Roger Jessup is a part-time supervisor who rarely attends meetings, Mayor Warren M. Dorn of Pasadena charged Tuesday night.

Lacing into his incumbent opponent for the Fifth District supervisorial seat, Dorn told the Hastings Ranch Democratic Club that the small number of supervisors permits each of them too much power—and that this is why Jessup opposes efforts to increase the size of the board.

The mayor said the board of supervisors should vote for a referendum to increase its members so that each could represent a group with similar interests.

FIVE SUPERVISORS for the entire county prohibits adequate representation and places far too much power in the hands of individual supervisors, he declared.

He outlined a plan for splitting up the Fifth District into sections—Antelope Valley, San Fernando Valley and the Pasadena and Los Angeles area.

Dorn, who outdistanced Jessup in the recent primaries, said the latter's charge that smog was a "false issue" in the campaign reminded him of former President Hoover, with the "false issue" of depression.

SMOG IS A VITAL issue, just as the depression was a vital issue, the mayor told the meeting, held in the Russell D. Kraus home, 1420 Valley View.

He made headway against the smog problem in Pasadena through a zoning code, and since then the city has attracted more desirable industry, Dorn told the club.

In Pasadena, the mayor said, he attacked the problem through zoning, by obtaining medical evidence that smog was injurious to health, and then by cracking the whip with the biggest smog producers and working his way down.

Out-of-Town Guests
Visit Fred C. Brears

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Brear, 1115 Valley View, have been entertaining her mother, Mrs. John Lax, and brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Doten, and their children, Scott, Anne and Robert, of Berkeley, Calif.

One of the highlights of their stay has been a visit to Disney.

Yankees Slip and Reds Climb
In Race for Second Half Flag

By Charles Ayres

Second-half competition in the Hastings Little League figures to be as tight as ever, but with the possibility of the chief competition coming from a different source.

The co-champion Yankees of the first-half race in the American League have lost three straight and the Reds, who tied for last, have given the leading Braves the stiffest competition to date.

The Braves lead with a 3-0 record, having won a 7-6 game from the Reds and taken an 11-9 decision from the Indians during the past week.

In both games it was the same old story of Brave power that scored early and often to provide the winning margins. Sterling Peacock had it when he needed it to squash a last-inning attempt of the Reds to pull the game out of the fire.

John Wallace hit his fourth home run of the season with one man on to score two of the Reds' runs.

THE YANKEES lost an 8-3 decision to the Reds and a 3-2 squeaker to the Indians in other games. Effective pitching by Mike Ayres and timely hitting by Dick Whitted spelled the difference for the Reds.

Al Alvarez held the Indians to one hit but lost the game when two walks and a double by Bill Carr in the fourth inning provided the winning margin.

The Beavers in the National League still are undefeated but the best they could get in their game with the Angels was a 26-26 tie. The teams matched 13-run innings with Peterson and Howell of the Angels hitting homers.

OTHER GAMES saw the Cubs score in every inning to swamp the Stars 23-2, then turn around and drop a 17-10 game to the Sox held on to their lead with a 16-11 decision over the Rams. The game was marked by the batting of Verdi for the Red Sox and Schneider for the Rams.

The Eagles had little trouble with the Dodgers in registering a 12-5 verdict.

UNEMPLOYMENT DOWN
Unemployment in California in May—149,000—was the lowest for that month since World War II and employment—5,322,000—was at a record topped only by seasonal highs of last autumn, the Department of Employment and the Department of Industrial Relations announced yesterday.

Record Number of Outdoor Events Promised for July

A record number of outdoor events and attractions reflect Southern California's dry subtropical summer climate, according to the All-Year Club's July Events Calendar.

Symphonies Under the Stars at Hollywood Bowl, the Pageant at Laguna Beach's Art Festival, Santa Barbara's Semana Nautica and Long Beach's Miss Universe Contest are just a few of the many outdoor events scheduled during July.

The Hollywood Bowl concerts begin July 10 and continue through Sept. 1. In all, there will be 27 evenings of music, featuring such stars as Paul Whiteman, Marian Anderson, Zino Francescatti, Dorothy Kirsten, Leopold Stokowski and Eddie Fisher.

Laguna Beach's spectacular Festival of Arts will be held July 14 to Aug. 12. The nightly Pageant of the Masters reproduces famous works of art with living models enacting principal roles in realistic tableaux.

In Santa Barbara, the Annual Semana Nautica will be held July 1 to 8. A total of 43 different events, including a 44-mile sailing race to Anacapa Island, are scheduled. One highlight: the "Battle of the Flowers" on July 4, when some 50 fishing boats decorated with thousands of fresh flowers parade through the harbor.

Fast becoming one of the world's major beauty contests, the Long Beach "Miss Universe" contest will be held from July 12 to 22. Some 80 pretty girls representing nearly every foreign country and every state in the U.S. will compete.

Oceanside's annual beach celebration and "Miss Southern California Beauty Contest" will be held June 29 through July 4. The winner and her runners-up will ride a special float in the annual July 4 parade.

Santa Monica's annual "Miss Muscle Beach" contest, proving that beauty and muscles can be combined, will feature exhibitions of strength July 3 and 4. The Aircraft Carrier Philippine Sea will be offshore to welcome visitors from the Santa Monica pier.

Ontario's biggest event of the year—the All States Picnic—will be held July 4 on Euclid Ave., with some 70,000 people representing all 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, Mexico and Canada sitting down at the world's longest picnic table (2½ miles).

Oxnard's eighth annual "Sugar Beet Days" will be July 12 to Aug. 4, with a crowd of 60,000 expected. Oxnard is the site of the world's second largest sugar factory.

Burbank's Starlight Bowl Concerts will begin July 7 and continue through Oct. 7 at the scenic bowl on Inspiration Point. Concerts feature the Burbank Symphony Orchestra, Leo Damiani conducting.

La Jolla is sponsoring a Musical Arts Festival, from June 10 to Aug. 5, with five concerts in the high school auditorium.

Nikolai Sokoloff, conductor. San Diego County's annual County Fair and Southern California Exposition will continue through July 8 at the Del Mar Fairgrounds. One feature: a diaper derby for infants under a year old.

Venice will have one of the most unique July 4 celebrations. Marine combat teams will sail in from Santa Monica Bay, staging a mock invasion at Venice beach. In the evening, a colorful fireworks display will be set off from the pier.

In Antelope Valley, the community of Pearblossom will award prizes for the best sunbats July 7 and 8. Other events will include an outdoor barbecue, trick riding and a fathers and sons softball game.

In La Jolla, the annual Summer Theater founded by Gregory Peck, Dorothy McGuire and Mel Ferrer begins June 26 and continues through Sept. 2 in the high school auditorium.

Santa Monica's annual swimming meet, sanctioned by the AAU, will feature more than 100 events between June 29 and July 1.

San Juan Capistrano's annual Chuck Wagon Breakfast will be July 15. Some 1,500 are expected to enjoy the Old Western style breakfast in the walnut grove south of the business district.

Venice will parade bathing beauties for photographers July 15 during the annual Surfestival Camera Day.

San Diego's Fiesta del Pacifico will be held July 18 to Aug. 19. There will be an Art Mart, a costume parade, Shakespeare Festival, and staging of "The California Story."

Newport Harbor's 21st annual Flight of the Snowbirds, one of the most spectacular nautical events in the Southland, will be July 29. Some 140 small sailboats race over a 6-mile course, skippered by youngsters who often are helped by such movie stars as Humphrey Bogart.

The 8th annual Redlands Photo Fiesta will be July 29 in the Redlands Civic Center. Models and sets are provided for amateur photographers.

The 10th annual San Diego County Art Show will be July 15 to 29 in Vista.

San Clemente holds an Old Spanish Days Fiesta July 29 and 30 with a two-hour parade on Saturday morning.

The trouble with having a wife who's a good manager is that it's likely to be hubby who gets managed.

Mrs. Lillian Haverick Entertains Relatives

Mrs. Lillian Haverick, 28 N. Baldwin, has been entertaining her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Heisser of Coshooton, O., and Mr. and Mrs. William McGinnis of Lakewood, O., and their daughter, Janie.

Their stay has been highlighted by a visit to Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, Farmer's Market, a tour of Disney Studios and seeing the TV shows, "Queen for a Day" and "I Love Lucy."

Ex-Sierra Madrean Works In Wheel Chair for the Needy

Ten pounds of clothing would scarcely tip the scales against 295,000 pounds of clothing. But the 10 pounds in this story carry a lot of weight.

Mrs. C. L. Hoover, a former resident of Sierra Madre now living in Ventura, Calif., is in her 80s. She is also in a wheel chair and wears a spinal support at all times because of a broken hip and spine fracture. But that hasn't prevented Mrs. Hoover from making 10 pounds of children's clothing to contribute toward the 295,000-pound goal of the American Friends Committee for overseas distribution.

Last November the 10-pound box was sent from Mrs. Hoover. In February another package containing 25 new children's dresses arrived, and again last April an additional 26 new children's garments appeared at the Material Aids workroom of the American Friends Service Committee regional office in Pasadena. This time a letter from Mrs. Hoover followed.

FIRE FLAMES

By JAMES HEASLEY

Breathes there a man so dead, who never to himself has said, "V-Z. &—X! & G. D -SX"—as he stubbed his toe on the foot of the bed.

ONCE WHEN one of our oldest and homeliest (not mentioning any names) stopped a haughty young miss, he was called an ass. When she paid her fine, the judge reproved her for what she had said to the officer.

"Judge, you mean I shouldn't call a policeman an ass?" "Certainly not. You must show respect for authority and not insult the police."

"Well, Judge, you wouldn't care if I called an ass a policeman, would you?"

IT WAS RAINING hard when Joe Grippi and the Chief drove off to a San Gabriel Fire Meeting. The windshield was sprayed with muddled water and the car narrowly escaped several collisions.

"Wouldn't it be a good idea to wipe off the windshield?" asked Joe.

"Not worth the bother," was the reply. "I left my glasses at home."

"RED" WILMORE, a representative of the Crown Fire Truck Company, gave time to the department to instruct in operation of the new fire truck. Those in white hats and those assigned to be engineers were attentive to what Red had to say and watched him do it.

There are tricks in all trades and much is to be learned about using pumps. The interest shown bespeaks well of the seriousness applied to the work of the department. The men realize the responsibility of the fire department and its importance to the community.

With hilarity and pleasure mingled with seriousness, there is a determination to keep alert to the danger of fire and be prepared to battle it when it occurs. Men are chosen because of their physical fitness and an enterprising desire to be of value to the fire department in saving property and lives.

THE FRIDAY NIGHT meetin' was not without the usual complications. Heavy fines were assessed on one who persisted in being heard when others were trying to hear. Jimmie Cole found that "insubordination" means "Do what you're told."

Because he is a leading member of the picnic "eats" committee, he escaped more severe punishment. He assures us a fine feed with liquid to aid digestion. Next Wednesday is the Day. Be there.

REVENUES UP

California's general fund revenues for the first 11 months of the 1955-56 fiscal year rose to $962,849,176, Robert C. Kirkwood, State Controller, announced yesterday. This is an increase of $126,149,445—or 15.08 per cent—from the same period last year.

ARTS EXHIBITION PLANNED

The Barnsdall Arts and Crafts Center, Los Angeles' municipal hobby-craft center, will stage its 15th annual free "Exhibition of the Arts" at the Municipal Art Gallery in Barnsdall Park, Hollywood Blvd. at N. Vermont Ave., from next Sunday through Sunday, July 15.
